

Tonight's Offering will be shared to the benefit of two ministries:

Samaritan's Purse Hurricane Helene Relief
Samaritan's Purse has been responding to areas devastated by Helene. In the weeks after the storm, they delivered tons of relief supplies and deployed thousands of volunteers who cleaned out flooded homes, tarped roofs, and cut up fallen trees.

Now we'll begin serving mountain communities in eight counties through our rebuild program, replacing manufactured homes, rebuilding and repairing stick-built homes, and providing additional assistance in western North Carolina and eastern Tennessee. This will be a long-term project; please see our rebuild page for more information.

MAMA Project's mission is to be a network to promote health and wholeness through partnerships on many levels, both national and international. MAMA promotes community health through medical service teams, deworming, micronutrients, and clean water solutions.

We work with families, communities, and other organizations including health authorities to improve conditions for the most vulnerable. We work to bring the benefits of science-based medical and nutritional interventions to people that are hard to reach.
